Fishermen in Demand.
London, Eng., Feb. 28.—Good fisher... men are worth almost their weight in...
gold here, as scarce haly they become...
since the war's outbreak. Notwith... standing the mining of so many parts... of the North Sea and other waters... adjacent to the British Isles, the in... dustry has suffered no decline. There...
is just as many fish and the demand... on them is greater than ever. The...
difficulty in catching them is due to...
the fact that so many fishermen and...
their boats have been pressed into the...
Royal Naval Reserve. Trawler sections... to man the mine sweepers and other...
vessels on war service.

The original steam-fishing fleet...
here, which in peace times numbered...
more than 500 vessels, has been ma... terially depleted. The type of fisher... man has undergone a change, compris... ing largely the class of man who works...
only when necessity demands. Trawl...

widest sense of the term. Prices for... fish have more than quadrupled and...
with the continuous shortage, due not...
only to the naval requirements in re... spect to vessels, but also to the restric... ted fishing area, there is always an...
overwhelming demand from all parts...
of the country.
